THE ONE CENT DAILY.

Through all these hard times the circulation of THE ONE CENT DAILY has kept growing. People are surprised that we are able to furnish a complete associated press daily for 25 cts. a month. They are all pleased with the paper, regardless of party affiliations. The publishers are Republicans and have their views about subjects when called upon to express them. But they are first of all in favor of good government and belong to the great disinterested mass of the people who seek no office, get no salaries, draw no fees, and are only contributors to the tax collector. From this standpoint readers of the ONE CENT DAILY can always rest assured that they will be dealt with. They will be given editorials from the independent people's standpoint, not from that of any of the political machines.

All disinterested citizens who desire good government in Oregon are anxious interested in circulating the ONE CENT DAILY as we are. The bargain is theirs. The service is ours. The result is for all. Circulate it. Show it to your neighbor; it will spread. They will take it; all that is needed is for them to see it. It is its own best advertisement. THE ONE CENT DAILY.

THE SENATE MUST ACT.

The silver debate has dragged to a point where the senate of the United States must act. The house has acted. All the harm has been done that can be done to the country.

The senate must now act in continuous session or forfeit its right to be called a deliberative body that can reach a conclusion.

There has been too much disturbance of business by congress already. After the house passed the repeal of the silver purchase act the business interests of the country revived. As soon as it became evident that the senate was trifling with the subject to kill time matters became worse again. There should be action one way or another unless the country is to be thrown into another crisis.

THE SIMON BRIBERY CASE.

In the State vs. Simon, a report of which appears elsewhere, the evidence seems to have been all on the side of the state and the argument all against it. Mr. Simon probably made no more effort to get a state contract than many others have made, only he was not successful.

It is more than likely that Superintendent Downing and other state officials have been approached by other business men along the same line. But it makes a world of difference how it is done and whether the man is a friend or a foe.

It is not likely that Mr. Downing went before the grand jury and informed on Simon of his own account. As a rule he is not so vindictive as that. If the truth were known he was probably called there and had to tell what he did. The supplies for the pen should be advertised for and open bids received as for the asylum.

THE SMALL CRIMES.

The time of the grand jury is mostly occupied with small criminals. Most of them are poor men, unable to employ counsel or bring those influences to bear which keep offenders out of the clutches of the law. If our readers would allow it we would like to comment on a case which happened this year where a man had been guilty of a grave offense against public morals, had robbed the widow and betrayed the confidence of a family, and where the lawyers, courts, juries, two alleged newspapers and all who are ordinarily called upon to protect society and bring the offender to justice, deliberately protected the guilty party and carried on prosecutions against persons who were innocent of all wrongdoing. Contrast that with the criminal business of the present term of court, where petty offenses are dragged through enormous expensive trials.

There is too much truth in the oft repeated saying that the big criminals escape justice. What is being done with Jim Lotan who is charged with stealing several hundred thousand; with Henry Villard who has stolen his millions out of the North Pacific; with J. L. Cowan who abstracted unknown sums of deposits in his bank management. We are living in a money corrupted age. Our law and justice machinery makes life too easy for the big thieves.

Jenny's.—At Sharpe's dairy are kept as fine a herd of Jersey cows as you wish to see. That's why they sell such excellent milk and cream.

THE GEARY LAW.

The efforts of the present administration to break down the Geary law are undoubtedly dictated by a large and respectable element of people in the Eastern states, who regard the whole Chinese question as a local matter.

The question should be made national, and all elements of foreign immigration included who will not come up to certain standards of American family life. Our country has no use for aliens who do not intend to become citizens and establish homes.

The American home, owned by an American citizen and taxpayer must be the mint of the state and the sooner this fact is recognized the better it will be for our government. Mr. Geary does well to stand for the expulsion of all that is alien to American homes.

John Quickly Extemporized Five Tow Bays.

This is a meaningless sentence, but it contains all the letters of our alphabet. Five of these letters spell "woman," and large numbers of women believe in the virtues of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a strictly vegetable compound, for her use only, and an unfailing cure for the many ills that beset her. It recuperates wasted strength, restores the functions to a normal condition, and fits her to bear and rear healthy offspring; promotes digestion, purifies the blood, and gives activity to the bowels and kidneys. In a word, it is a woman's cure and safeguard. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or its price $100 refunded.

Making Money With Ease.

"An old farmer came into my office not long ago and sat down," said an Alabama banker. "I was putting my signature to some blank bills received in sheets—the usual form, you know, from the treasury department. The old farmer watched me for a few moments and asked: 'What is that?'"

"I handed him one of the sheets. He looked at the blank bills and said: 'This is money?'"

"Yes," I said.

"Is that the way you make it?" he asked.

"Yes," said I.

"My goddamin'!" he said and walked out without another word."

—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Gross Carelessness.

"I'll never forget Bill Timmins," said the man who used to live in the far northwest. "Bill was as game a man as ever lived and too generous to take advantage."

"Isn't he living now?" asked the listener, who had been a good deal impressed by the sadness of the narrator's tone.

"No. I was on the coroner's jury that looked after Bill."

"What—what was the verdict?"

"Died of carelessness!"

"Carelessness! How?"

"Got into a fight without a gun on him."—Exchange.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy liver. When the liver is torpid the bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, drowsiness and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons' Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy. NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., it hardly ever fails. It is a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

California Names Ending in O.

Attention has not been called, we believe, to one peculiarity—that is, the number of geographical names in California which end with o. In this respect this state must be awarded the championship medal, as a brief inspection of any list of names of places will show. First, among the 58 counties of California there are no less than 14 which end with the round letter. They are El Dorado, Fresno, Inyo, Mendocino, Mono, Sacramento, San Benito, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Solano and Yolo. It is to be observed that only a portion of these are named from masculine saints in the Spanish calendar, Fresno, Inyo, Mono, Solano and others being presumably Indian names, though the termination may have been put on by the early Spanish settlers. When we come to towns in California whose names end in o, their name is legion. There are, among others, Acampo, Alamo, Bernardo, Blanco, Capistrano, Decoto, Echo, El Casco, Fruto, Igo, Jacinto, Largo, Llano, Milo, Moreno, Navarro, Nicado, Ono, Palermo, Plido, Rialto, Sausalito, Tropic, Venado and Volcano.

In the compilation of this imperfect catalogue the towns and cities named for saints have been omitted, as the list would becently too long, running from San Antonio through most of the letters of the alphabet to San Ysidro. There is said to be a reason for all this, and it is not unlikely that the names given by the early and pious Spanish settlers to their settlements may have sounded pleasant to the gringos who came after them and have influenced them, perhaps unconsciously, to confer upon their own mining camps and villages and towns names ending with the letter o.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Touch of Fellow Feeling.

"We do indeed have some queer experiences," said the trained nurse, taking off her white cap and giving its dainty bow a few deft, reconstructing touches, "and many interesting and diverting episodes also. Not long ago I was sent for to attend a minister's wife and must confess that I responded to the call with some trepidation and apprehension. It was my first experience in a minister's family, and I was afraid that my patient might ask me to pray with her or read the Bible to her, which most excellent offices would be wholly out of my line and would cause me much embarrassment.

"When I reached my post of duty, I found the minister's wife suffering a great deal, and my first office was to make and apply a mustard plaster. I concocted it with a generous and conscientious hand, and it must have been pretty warm, for several seconds after I had deferentially applied the mustard plaster on the person of the minister's wife she groaned dismally. Leaving over her to discover whether her pain had increased, I heard her murmur softly but energetically:

"Oh, jimmie! It's too hot! I can't stand it!"

"Perhaps you can imagine how my heart leaped toward the dear woman at this touch of nature. We had a delightful time together when she got better. She was a good woman, too, but like the rest of us she had her favorite ejaculations under compelling circumstances."
